

VETERINARY EVIDENCE

THE EBVM NETWORK JOURNAL

Quick Reference Sheet

Writing a Knowledge Summary checklist

1. Read about how to do Knowledge Summaries at www.ebvmllearning.org.
2. Think of a clinical question, or get one from Veterinary Evidence (editor@veterinaryevidence.org).
3. Search Veterinary Evidence to verify that your question is unique.
4. If necessary, get free library access from RCVS Knowledge (library@rcvsknowledge.org).
5. Download and read the Knowledge summary template and sample knowledge summary.
6. Turn the clinical question into a PICO question.
7. Devise a literature search plan.
8. Have the RCVS Knowledge library staff double check the search plan. (library@rcvsknowledge.org)
9. Search literature databases (use toolkit No. 2)
10. Critically evaluate the articles (use toolkits No. 3 to No. 11).
11. Write the knowledge summary using the template.

Key contacts and locations

Contact VE Editor-in-Chief Rich Evans: editor@veterinaryevidence.org

Contact the RCVS Knowledge library staff: library@rcvsknowledge.org

Knowledge Summary toolkits: www.rcvsknowledge.org/toolkit

Veterinary Evidence: www.veterinaryevidence.org

Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/RCVSKnowledge>

Twitter: <https://twitter.com/RCVSKnowledge/media>

Publishing in Veterinary Evidence checklist

1. Write a manuscript.
2. Go to www.veterinaryevidence.org.
3. New users need to register before submitting.
4. Follow the five-step online submission process.
5. Upload your manuscript.
6. The manuscript will be open peer reviewed.
7. You will receive a response in 20 working days.
8. Respond to reviewer comments.
9. Return to Veterinary Evidence and upload your response to reviewer's comments and revised manuscript.
10. You will receive a final editorial decision in five working days.

EBVMNETWORK
A WORLD OF KNOWLEDGE IN A SINGLE NETWORK